Making people feel welcome is one of the many things that we do best

WELCOME HOME

Is it possible to feel at home in a place you have never lived? Absolutely, if that place is Pictou County.

Making people feel welcome is one of the many things that we do best. Perhaps it's our sense of place that sets our community apart. Maybe it's the deep connection to our history while celebrating our lives and stories. Maybe it's the energy in our creative and entrepreneurial spirit, our little quirks, or the way we take care of each other when we need it the most. These are the things that become part of the character of those who choose to live here and will be part of your experience as you settle in and truly grow to appreciate our culture.

We love our coffee and morning commutes. The longest lineups will be at your neighbourhood coffee shop. Otherwise, you can get across town or over the causeway within four or five songs on your playlist.

We love talking about hockey, politics and weather, not always in that order. We have excellent schools serving both sides of the county including the new primary-to-eight New Glasgow Academy and a new centre for educational excellence for Pictou Landing First Nation. Wellness of body and mind are nourished with many recreational and fitness outlets. The Pictou County Wellness Centre is home to many sporting and community events and where you'll find the YMCA of Pictou County. There are several hundred kilometres of trails to explore and some of the region's most beautiful beaches to enjoy in all seasons. If you prefer a darker night sky and more room to roam some of the best real estate can be found in our rural areas.

We love to be entertained. The deCoste Performing Arts Centre in the harbour town of Pictou and Glasgow Square Theatre alongside the East River in New Glasgow are celebrated venues attracting some of the best local and visiting performers traveling throughout the east coast. We know how to party. You can rock out all summer long at any of our weekend festivals that kick-off in late spring and continue well past the kids heading back to school. If you want to raise a glass while you celebrate, we can fill it with award-winning locally produced spirits, wine, and beer. You are soon to discover that you will never go hungry, and by the way, we love our unique pizza with its famous brown sauce. The county has a growing list of eateries using locally sourced seasonal ingredients to appeal to every palate and dining experience. We love supporting our local producers. Our weekend markets are the places to see and be seen. Don't forget your favourite reusable bag because you will need something to carry home all of your great finds. We care about the environment and sustainability and are always looking at ways to improve our relationship with Mother Nature.

We look after one another. Our community sets the standard for welcoming people who have been displaced from their own homes in other countries and we love what we learn from them.

Perhaps most importantly, we recognize that we are all newcomers in a place that has been nurtured for thousands of years by our indigenous people.

We know that you will soon discover your own things that are true about Pictou County. And when you do, let us know so we can add them to our list.

Welcome Home. We've been waiting for you.

FROM SCOTLAND AND BEYOND

Our Pictou County history began several centuries ago, settled by many diverse groups of people and cultures from various parts of the globe. The Mi'kmaq and their ancestors have lived in Piwktuk for more than 11,000 years. At the heart of the Mi'kmaw homeland, Piwktuk is intimately tied to the shoreline of the Northumberland Strait as well as to Epekwitk (PEI).

In 1767, the Ship Betsey arrived with settlers from Philadelphia, among them some of the first African Pictonians, and six years later, the Ship Hector arrived on our shores from Scotland. The voyage of the Ship Hector remains one of the most celebrated stories of early Scottish settlement in Canada, dubbing the Town of Pictou "The Birthplace of New Scotland." The survival of the 189 Highlanders on board is credited to the support of the Mi'kmaq, who guided the newcomers through the harsh winter.

For centuries, Pictou County has been home to resourceful, industrious, entrepreneurial and hardworking people. With its accommodating waterways and ocean-access, Pictou County was once a thriving ship-building hub. For centuries the county has been and still is a vital fishing portal for the province, the country and for seafood lovers globally. Large coal deposits throughout the county drove economic development for more than a century with extensive mining operations, Canada's first rail transportation, steel production and railcar manufacturing.

Today, Pictou County has welcomed people from all over the world who collectively contribute to this community, writing the next chapters of our history books.

GET OUT AND EXPLORE

Pictou County's history could inspire a novel or screenplay of epic proportions. We encourage you to get to know what has made our community the place it is today by exploring our many museums, libraries, monuments and historical spaces for hands-on learning. There are many local authors who have written about our history, and we urge you to participate in any cultural event to speak with people in the community and hear our fascinating stories.

SLOW DOWN, MOVE OVER LAW

In Nova Scotia, if you see an emergency vehicle pulled over with its lights flashing, slow down to 60 km/h or obey the speed limit if it's lower than 60 km/h. If you're on a road with two or more lanes in your direction, you must move into another lane farthest away from the stopped vehicle if you can do so safely. You don't need to slow down or move over if the vehicle is on the other side of the median on a divided highway.

This law has been updated to include public safety officers and tow truck drivers as well as emergency personnel, conservation officers and motor vehicle inspectors.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER UNIVERSITY (STFX)

POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION

Post-secondary education in Nova Scotia is delivered through 10 publicly supported degree-granting institutions and one province-wide community college – the Nova Scotia Community College (NSCC). Here in Pictou County, we are home to the NSCC's Pictou Campus located in Stellarton, offering full-time programs and continuing education. A 45-minute drive to Antigonish will bring you to one of Canada's premier undergraduate universities, St. Francis Xavier University, a 37-minute drive to Bible Hill will bring you to the Dalhousie Agricultural College (referred to as Dal University's AC). Many people choose to live in Pictou County and commute to either institution for schooling or employment.

CHILD CARE IN PICTOU COUNTY

Finding a person or a group of people who you can trust to look after your child is a big decision. Here in Pictou County, we have all kinds of wonderful, caring and professional child care providers to help you and your family.

Regulated child care is licensed through the Government of Nova Scotia and administered through registered day care organizations. In Pictou County, we have two YMCA day care sites, as well as many privately-run day care businesses. Options are also available for in-home care for infants, toddlers, and after-school care for school-aged children. Many day cares offer flexible hours, which is especially welcomed by parents or guardians requiring early drop-offs, or later pick-ups.

There are also a variety of preschools throughout the County to prepare your child for school, which for some, can go up to four years of age, as the Government of Nova Scotia introduced the Pre-Primary Program in the province.

You may hear the term Early Childhood Educators or ECEs. These are certified child care providers who have completed a four-year degree or two-year diploma program, and can be found in various day cares, and administering the pre-primary program in our schools.

When the school bell rings, there are many after-school care options to choose from, whether in day care settings, in private homes, within local non-profits, or programming provided by our municipalities.

Word of mouth is a powerful tool here! Many parents find great babysitter referrals through neighbours, friends or coworkers. Courses or certification aren't required for babysitting jobs, but are helpful to some, especially teenagers looking to earn some extra income while spending time caring for children in the community. Many municipal units facilitate babysitting courses being offered through organizations like the YMCA, and the Red Cross of Canada.

Sacred spaces for prayer and worship are important to communities everywhere. Pictou County is home to many faiths and places of worship of all sizes, all of which welcome new members and visitors alike.

Early settlers landed with few material possessions but a strong work ethic and deep faith. The log church in Loch Broom pays tribute to the first houses of worship; built using traditional methods and tools, the church is open in summer and hosts an annual service acknowledging the legacy of early pioneers.

Today the county is home to an array of faiths and sacred spaces that serve as gathering places for family and friends, old and new. Presbyterian, United, Anglican, Baptist, Roman Catholic and other Christian churches sit prominently in our town landscapes; village churches dot the hillsides and rural roads, each of them with its own story, all of them the product of local vision and labour.

The Pictou County Council of Churches also demonstrates a level of cooperation and mutual support among the faith community unseen in many other areas.

Our communities are also home to a Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and in 2018, we welcomed our first masjid (mosque), a former church now bringing light and life as a house of worship and community gathering space for the local Muslim community.

While the role of churches and places of worship have changed over the centuries, today they remain an integral part of life here in rural Nova Scotia.

GETTING INVOLVED

Sharing your time and talents is one of the best ways to get to know a community and its people.

Pictou County is known for being incredibly philanthropic with our time, energy, and monetary contributions. We're no stranger to a solid fundraiser and doing our best to look after one another, and give what we can.

There are many ways to get involved in the community. Entering a team in a fundraiser, volunteering at an event, joining a board or donating to a cause are all ways to join in and be part of something good.

LOOKING TO GET INVOLVED AND SHARE SOME TIME?

Annual events, service clubs, faith communities and churches, and community centres are always seeking volunteers to help with everything from fundraising to maintenance. There are also organizations seeking volunteers to serve vulnerable populations, helping those in need or mentoring a child. You can share your sporting, musical or artistic talents, or be an advocate or ally for underrepresented populations. Whatever you have to share can make a difference.

WOULDN'T IT BE NICE IF THERE WAS A LIST OF LOCAL NON-PROFITS? GOOD NEWS, THERE IS

In 2019, The Pictou Advocate compiled a list of community organizations with an interactive map and contact information of non-profits and other organizations throughout the county: pictouadvocate.com/2019/12/18/giving/

HOW GREAT AN IMPACT DOES THE LOCAL NON-PROFIT SECTOR MAKE IN PICTOU COUNTY?

In 2019, the Pictou County Chamber of Commerce released the results of a unique study, showing the significant economic and social contributions made by the non-profit sector in the county. The study, which included interviews with 44 local organizations, showed those organizations had total annual operating budgets of nearly $50 million, employed nearly 900 full-time and part-time persons, with a total annual payroll of just over $31 million while engaging 1,500 community volunteers annually. The organizations interviewed raise over $3 million, roughly $70 per resident in the County.

For the young, and the young-at-heart

There are many opportunities for youth in the community to thrive, learn, socialize and grow in Pictou County. For students, there are many activities through sports, music, arts and culture both in the schools and through the community like joining cadets, Junior Achievement, 4H, gymnastics, track and field, bands or choirs. Join a youth group, or hit up one of our skate parks – the possibilities are endless.

For young adults and professionals in the community, there are many opportunities to meet and socialize either through sports like ultimate frisbee, recreational hockey, through the arts community, hiking groups, pickleball, and fitness classes.

Unique to our community is Pulse Pictou County. This network of young adults works to make our community more engaging for the under-40 community. Members organize sporting events like learn to curl, bowling, silent reading, introduction to candidates during elections, business mixers, and more. The group can be found on Facebook, and those new to the community are most welcome to come and meet some new friends and faces in a welcoming atmosphere.

The Dream Candy Organization, located in Stellarton, is a non-profit organization offering programming and special events to help inspire youth to dream big and create lives filled with passion and purpose. Their space is welcoming and inspiring, and the programs even more so.

OFF TO CAMP

Summertime is when many local kids are off to camp – either day camps and programming like ones at our various community centres, run through municipal recreation programs, or overnight camps like Camp Geddie (Ponds) and Big Cove YMCA Camp (Sutherland's River). There are also opportunities for day camps at St. Francis Xavier University, such as coding and science camps.

NEWCOMER SERVICES AND SPONSORSHIP

Pictou County has become home to many newcomers arriving from countries around the world. Whether folks are immigrating to Canada for an employment opportunity or being resettled as refugees, Pictou County has a number of community groups and activities to serve newcomers.

Local employers take pride in going above and beyond to ensure any newcomer employees – and their families – are made to feel welcome in the workplace and beyond. As well, Pictou County has gained a reputation for its active role in sponsoring refugees. There are three local groups in the area: Westville Warm Hearts, CAiRN (Pictou), and Pictou County Safe Harbour. The three groups have been active since 2016, and altogether have resettled more than 75 individuals from Syria, Iraq, and the Democratic Republic of the Congo. The groups are made up of community members who volunteer their time to support the welcoming and integration within the County. Volunteering with a sponsorship group is a great way to get involved and meet others, while helping newcomers find their way.

In addition, The YREACH program is offered locally through the Halifax YMCA, the YMCA of Greater Halifax/Dartmouth, serving all refugees and immigrants in the area. YREACH works with local partners to create welcoming communities and have staff in multiple smaller centres across the province. They provide in-person settlement and integration support to newcomers, in addition to formalized language instruction that is offered at no cost. Their other services include community orientation, social events and recreation activities, school settlement, advocacy and referrals to outside agencies.

THE LITERARY SCENE IN PICTOU COUNTY

Nova Scotia in general, and Pictou County in particular, have been inspiring authors for generations. Our rich tapestry of scenery, history and storytelling cultures continues to call and nurture writers of all stages and genres. Giller Prize winner Johanna Skibsrud spent her early years here. Beloved children's author Sheree Fitch lives here: her Mable Murple's Book Shoppe and Dreamery has helped turn the active little community of River John into a summertime destination for fans and book lovers alike.

River John is also home to the annual Read by the Sea, one of the largest literary festivals of its kind in Canada. Each July, the festival draws top literary talent from throughout the region and across the country who, along with thousands of participants, take part in such events as WordPlay, a literary festival for children of all ages; PageTurners, which supports local book clubs; WordStock, a series of literary games and events at venues throughout River John and Pitch the Publisher, where hopefuls can share their ideas or manuscripts for feedback and a chance at a publishing contract.

Preservation and promotion of Pictou County's past and people have inspired a legion of non-fiction authors. Clyde MacDonald, a retired judge, has released more than a dozen books showcasing historical photos, court cases, and stories of murder most foul. Bill McTague has authored a series of local ghost stories. John Ashton in his research and writing unearthed the lost village of Raymondville and brought to light dozens of local folks who left home and found their fortunes on the world stages, screens, boardrooms and history books. Monica Graham is a prolific author of history and inspirational books.

Writers of all aspirations continue to find words, support and audiences. Mary Sheehan, a retired nurse, realized her childhood dream and released her first book at 82-years-old.

The group Pictou County Writers, New and Experienced continues to welcome a growing number of aspiring poets and writers of short fiction, novels and memoir. To celebrate Canada's 150th Anniversary, the group created the anthology Where Pines and Maples Grow, with member stories inspired by 'home.' Places like Pictou Island and our mainland coastal villages draw annual writing retreats for groups and individuals finding and replenishing their creativity.

TAXES

SALES TAX

In Nova Scotia, a sales tax called 'HST' (Harmonized sales tax) is charged on most goods and services, combines a federal Goods and Service Tax (GST) and the Provincial Sales Tax (PST).

NEW TO CANADA? Sales tax is not shown on the price tag of an item, but is added to the cost when you pay for it, or receive your bill.

INCOME TAXES

All residents must submit annual income tax returns to the Canada Revenue Agency. Need some help? There are a variety of corporate and independent accounting firms in Pictou County to help you, if required.

You must file your income tax returns by APRIL 30TH, every year, to ensure that you will not incur interest or penalties.

PROPERTY TAXES

Tax rates are determined by each municipal unit – all property owners pay residential taxes. There is a separate business and corporate tax rates for businesses. There is also a separate charge for property owners for utilities such as sewer, water, and waste, which you can read more about on page 37.

FACT: Rural county residents may use well water and individual septic systems, rather than town-supplied water and sewer.

Climate Change Action

Climate change is already impacting individuals and communities around the world, and is expected to have a significant impact on Canadians throughout the twenty first century. Climate change is one of the most pressing issues of our time, with impacts ranging from more frequent and severe storms, to extreme heat events, flooding, and an increase in the range of vector borne diseases. Climate change requires urgent action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and promote community resilience.

Despite the global nature of this issue, impacts will be experienced locally in communities across Nova Scotia. Fortunately, the actions needed to tackle climate change are also taking place at the community level.

Together we can advance climate action in our community, create new jobs, improve health and well-being, and save money.

LEADERSHIP ON CLIMATE ACTION FROM THE TOWN OF NEW GLASGOW

The Town of New Glasgow is committed to ambitious climate action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from energy use, transportation, and waste, while supporting adaptation measures to increase our adaptive capacity. They're also prioritizing emission reductions through the addition of renewable energy, optimizing energy efficiency in homes and businesses, and promoting active transportation. Using less energy to drive our vehicles and power our homes, provides cost savings to individuals while reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

Nova Scotia is a leader in addressing climate change, with one of the most aggressive emission reduction targets in Canada, and significant progress to date in transitioning to renewable energy and implementing adaptation measures to protect coastlines. The emission reduction target is 53% below 2005 levels by 2030.

Steeped in cultural richness, Pictou County is waiting to welcome you to the "Birthplace of New Scotland" and is always looking for reasons to celebrate. From the skirl of the bagpipes to celebrations of art, food, and music, the County is host to events of all shapes and sizes. Whether your tastes lean towards cultural performances, sporting events, or anything in between, we have something for you to enjoy most weeks of the year. Our performing arts centres at Glasgow Square Theatre and the deCoste Performing Arts Centre are year-round venues that offer a wide variety of entertainment for the whole family. Many towns and small communities in Pictou County host a homecoming at some point throughout the year where past residents come home to rekindle friendships and to welcome visitors to live like a local. We are also home to premier sporting facilities that have the capacity to host events from regional tournaments to national and international championships. If you want a parade or a car show we have those, too. A beer garden or a golf tournament? We host it! No matter your taste, we've got you covered. Keep an eye out for our signature spring and summer events: enjoy succulent local lobster while wandering the waterfront at the Pictou Lobster Carnival; listen to world-class musicians at the multi-day outdoor New Glasgow Music Jubilee; stop to take in Westville's Canada Day events, one of the longest standing celebrations in Nova Scotia; bring the family to the Trenton Funfest, dedicated to honouring the Steeltown's history, or Stellarton's Homecoming, which lauds old-fashioned family fun; or be welcomed and experience Pictou Landing First Nation's traditional annual Mawio'mi. We are proud of our communities and we welcome our guests to experience the north shore lifestyle we get to enjoy every day.

Ask about the best pizza and everyone has a hometown favourite, but here in Pictou County, we have something unique to brag about. You must try pizza with BROWN SAUCE.

Whether you're a foodie, a budding chef, or just plain hungry, a large and tasty asset in Pictou County is the variety of culinary options.

From Syrian to Japanese, Chinese to Korean, traditional diner foods to high-end options, pre-made meals catering to specialty diets, our foods are found in canteens, burger shacks, pubs and cafés, and don't forget: some of the freshest seafood you won't find anywhere else.

Our local farmers and producers bring to our table local meats, vegetables, cheeses, soups, sauces, honey and baked goods. Check out where you can find some of our local goods on page 44.

You won't be here long before being offered, or being asked about, Pictou County pizza – a moniker given to the regionally distinct brown sauce pizza. There are several local restaurants that serve pizza with brown sauce including Alice's Pizza (Blue Acres), Sam's Pizza (Stellarton, Trenton), Acropole (Westville, New Glasgow, Pictou), and Pictou County Pizza (Abercrombie). Both Sam's Pizza and Pictou County Pizza also sell this local delicacy (the sauce, not the pizza) by the jar, offering the perfect souvenir, or a taste of home for those who live away. Pizzas themselves have been shipped across the country to satisfy cravings for that unique taste of home.

Pictou County pizza is often served in large, thick slices and pairs well with donair sauce – a delicious, creamy sweet condiment used for topping or dipping.

TIP FROM THE LOCALS There are traditional red-sauced pizzas available here, too.

THE OCEAN IS CALLING YOUR NAME

In Nova Scotia, no matter where you are, you're never more than 67 kilometers from the ocean, and in Pictou County, you're even closer.

In summer along the Northumberland Shore, you'll find some of the warmest salt water north of the Carolinas, making our beaches the perfect place to swim, walk, search for shells, relax with your feet in the sand or snap that perfect photo of sunrise or sunset. In winter, a brisk walk along the beach (bundled up of course) can be a great way to get fresh air. On rare occasions, when the temperatures are cold enough, you can even skate on the ocean, and our ponds.

PROVINCIAL BEACHES AND PARKS

Check out the list of our local beaches and parks (with some local tips) on page 75.

OTHER WATERWAYS

Enjoy many year-round waterways by exploring one of our lakes, rivers or streams. Whether dipping your toes in the cool water or trying your hand at catching supper, you will enjoy the opportunities that come with living near the water. Many of our walking trails have water nearby with places like the Samson Trail in downtown New Glasgow, the Jitney Trail in Pictou, the Hopewell Footbridge (one of the last wooden footbridges in Canada) or Trenton Park.

A favourite activity is hunting for beach glass, pieces of broken bottles that have been etched and worn smooth by the waves then washed ashore. People love finding these treasures, and the added challenge of finding unique colours, shapes and sizes.

FUN ON THE WATER

In the summer, Pictou County boaters and watercraft enthusiasts come out to play. Boats of all kinds, kayaks, paddle boards, canoes and jet skis can be seen gracing our waterways – there are even cardboard boat races as part of local events, such as the annual Merigomish Family Fest.

WHARVES, MARINAS AND LAUNCHES

There are two municipally owned and operated marinas: one in downtown New Glasgow, and the Hector Quay Visitors Marina in downtown Pictou. The largest marina in our area is the privately run Pictou Marina, located at the mouth of Pictou Harbour. The marina houses a service repair facility and is home to the Pictou Yacht Club which supports recreational sailing and yachting.

There are a variety of other wharves, private and small non-motorized watercraft launches throughout the community including Caribou (where the PEI ferry is located), Pictou Landing, Cape John and Toney River. There are several local retailers serving all of your nautical needs.

MUST-SEE EVENT The modified boat races in the Pictou Harbour as part of the Pictou Lobster Carnival never disappoint.

STAYING SAFE ON THE WATER

Water safety is an important part of life in a coastal community. It's always important to be prepared when heading out on the water, either on a watercraft or for a swim. This includes wearing a proper personal flotation device and following the rules of the waterways. As well, being informed about swimming in the ocean and what to do in the event of a rip tide is an essential piece of enjoying a dip in the ocean.

DID YOU KNOW? You can take lifesaving courses at the YMCA of Pictou County and the Pictou Fisheries Training pool.

FISHING IN PICTOU COUNTY

For decades, commercial fishing has been one of the primary industries in Pictou County, offering some of the freshest seafood – from mackerel and salmon, to scallops, mussels, lobster and more.

Sport fishing is also a popular activity in Pictou County, with our waters offering some of the most sought-after sportfish – from brook trout, brown trout, rainbow trout, Atlantic salmon and striped bass. You can enjoy fly fishing, spin fishing and ice fishing.

LICENSED AND READY TO FISH

Anyone 16 years of age and older requires a licence for fresh-water fishing. Licences can be purchased from vendors in the community or through Access Nova Scotia. You do not need a licence to fish in tidal or salt water in Nova Scotia. However, you must respect Canadian federal and provincial fishing seasons, bag limits and gear restrictions.

WILDLIFE AND FURRY FRIENDS

Nova Scotia, including Pictou County, is home to a wide variety of wildlife and species. While we enjoy the natural wonders and the wildlife, animals in the wild can sometimes be a nuisance, or a safety concern, especially when encroaching in more urban settings and around homes.

You need to be especially cautious of deer, raccoons and other small animals that are known to dart out in front of vehicles. You may notice deer crossing signs in areas where deer are known to be. If you're exploring the outdoors, it's important to familiarize yourself with the wildlife, plants, and safe hiking procedures.

SPORTS AND RECREATION

We love sports in Pictou County: competing, playing or watching. Locals joke that if you invent a sport here, you'd not only fill a team but have enough community support to start a league.

School-led sport leagues and programming in the community allow for sporting and recreational opportunities for all ages and abilities.

We have traditional sports like basketball, soccer, hockey, skating, softball, baseball, inclusive programming like Pictou County Challenger Baseball, sledge hockey, lacrosse, and swimming lessons through Autism Pictou County. We have a wonderful Special Olympics program, equestrian opportunities, curling (and even learn-to-curl events), rugby, and even mini rugby for the little ones.

If you're looking to get active there are a variety of traditional gyms, private gym studios and fitness classes, classes offered through municipalities such as chair yoga, or try laughter yoga through the library. There's even hot yoga, tai chi, martial arts, dance studios and classes, archery, roller derby, a gymnastics club and ultimate frisbee.

Join a cycling group, or take a leisurely cycle on one of our trails, join the triathlete club or a 'Try a Tri' club, play a few rounds at our golf courses, or give Pickleball a try – a newer sport that's been growing in our community. Want to hit the slopes? Wentworth Ski hill is just an hour away.

We have an extensive network of trails and parks, which you can learn more about on page 75.

TOO MUCH CHOICE?

We think that's a good thing. One way to narrow down your options, or find out how to register, who to connect with, or how to find a trail or a studio, visit highlandconnect.ca.
